Qualifications

Please describe your relevant analytical skills.

As the supervisor of sign language interpreter services at Austin Community College I am responsible for assigning interpreters (120) to students (130) and their classes (200). There are many factors to consider when making an assignment. The interpreters content knowledge, skill level, availability, the students language, and several others. I have to consider each factor before making an assignment

I am the one who does the investing in our family. This has given me the opportunity to gain analytical skills when looking at which stocks or funds to invest in.

Please describe your ability to be impartial.

As the supervisor of interpreter services at ACC I encounter situations where I may have a student wanting an interpreter replaced in their class. When this does occur I try to get the 2 parties to talk and if they cant resolve the issue then I listen to the students story and and the interpreters side of the story. I always come into these situations with a neutral, impartial perspective. If I am seen as anything but impartial then I become ineffective at my job.

Also, as an interpreter myself, our Code of Professional Conduct requires us, when interpreting at the doctors office, in meetings or in any other situation, to be impartial.

Please describe your appreciation for the City of Austin's diverse demographics and geography.

I have lived in Austin going on 32 years and have learned to appreciate Austin for its diversity and beauty. I moved here when I was 28 I grew up in Syracuse, NY and attended multiracial schools all my life and am thankful for that experience.

Working at Austin Community College has exposed me to students and people of various demographics; from homeless people (yes homeless people attend ACC) to those with money; young and old; people from different cultures and races. I do appreciate each person for what they bring to the college. One of them being a different way of seeing the world. ACC represents Austin diverse demographics.

Im not sure what you mean by geography so Im not sure if my response relates to what you are looking for. As someone who has lived in Austin over 30 years I have had the opportunity to live in various parts of the city and to see and experience all aspects of Austin. Each neighborhood is unique and has something to offer to the city.

I am blessed to be living in Austin. Its quite different than when I moved here 30 years ago. In may ways good and in some ways not so good. I always said that if I moved out of Austin I would move out of Texas

Please provide any other information you wish to be considered during the selection of the most qualified applicants for the Commission.

I wish the auditors Gods wisdom in selecting the committee. I know it wont be an easy task. I care about the city and believe each citizen should have the opportunity to be heard. The redistricting will come much closer to allowing this to happen then the present structure we have presently.
